

Dr. Yoshitaka Hosoi, Economist and Engineer

Dr. Yoshitaka Hosoi has both ability as an Economist and a mining/exploration Engineer.

He is currently Visiting professor of Akita University, and Visiting Lecturer of Hokkaido University and Osaka University. He teaches “International Relations”, “Resources Economics” and “International Cooperation”. He is also Senior Advisor for Natural Resources of Japan International Corporation Agency (JICA). His task is to advice to JICA and developing countries in mining field, to formulate projects, to supervise implementing projects, to conduct human resource development, and others in Africa, Asia, Pacific and South America. He has worked for Deep Ocean Resources Development Co., Ltd. (DORD) and Japan Oil, Gas and Metals National Corporation (JOGMEC). He has held positions in SODIMIZA mining company in Zaire, MMAJ (Metal Mining Agency of Japan), JMEC (Japan Mining Engineering Centre for International Cooperation), and SOPAC (South Pacific Applied Geosciences Commission) in Fiji.